—LOS ANGELES TIMES

A film-music collaboration between acclaimed filmmaker Bill Morrison (DECASIA, THE MINERS' HYMNS) and Grammy-winning jazz guitarist Bill Frisell, THE GREAT FLOOD is based on, and inspired by, the catastrophic Mississippi River Flood of 1927 and the ensuing transformation of American society. Part of the floods enduring legacy was the mass exodus of displaced sharecroppers. Musically, the "Great Migration" of rural southern blacks to Northern cities saw the Delta Blues electrified and reinterpreted as the Chicago Blues, Rhythm and Blues, and Rock and Roll.
