

"UNAPOLOGETICALLY PERSONAL."

—THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER

"The combination of memoir and abstraction is both cerebral and heartrending."

—THE CHICAGO READER

✓ Critic's Pick

"[NO HOME MOVIE] was heartbreaking when I saw it last week and it is devastating now."

—THE NEW YORK TIMES

"A BEAUTIFUL AND THOROUGHLY STIRRING DOCUMENT OF FILIAL LOVE."

—FILMMAKER MAGAZINE

"Akerman brings us into her world."

—INDIEWIRE

"The least sentimental love letter you'll ever come across."

—VOGUE

"Stridently unsentimental."

—SLANT MAGAZINE

"Fearless, formally controlled and magnificent."

—SIGHT AND SOUND

The final film from groundbreaking auteur Chantal Akerman, NO HOME MOVIE is a portrait of her relationship with her mother, Natalia, a Holocaust survivor and familiar presence in many of her daughter's films.

"At the center of Chantal Akerman's enormous body of work is her mother, a Holocaust survivor who married and raised a family in Brussels. In recent years, the filmmaker has explicitly depicted, in videos, books, and installation works, her mother's life and their own intense connection to each other. No Home Movie is a portrait by Akerman, the daughter, of Akerman, the mother, in the last years of her life." —New York Film Festival, Film Society of Lincoln Center
