KATI WITH AN I is an intimate documentary portrait of a teenage girl in Alabama on the verge of her high school graduation. The film captures three tumultuous days in which Kati's future is cast into doubt.

We pick up the story on eighteen-year-old Kati's last day of school and follow her moment-by-moment, until she leaves Alabama with her parents. The center of her life is her relationship with her boyfriend, 21-year-old James. As she tries to convince him to come with her and leave everything he knows, the truth of their relationship slowly becoming emerge.

In this film, equal parts universal and personal, the radically singular experience of one girl breathes and comes live. Literally a lifetime in the making—the director Robert Greene, Kati's step-brother, has been documenting her since childhood—KATI WITH AN I is a moving, affecting story about one girl growing up.
