

Kimstim PRESENTS TWO NEW DOCUMENTARIES

SLOW FOOD STORY

A film by STEFANO SARDO

"Advocates the importance of maintaining both agricultural biodiversity and the pleasure principle."

— Corinna Clendenen, HuffingtonPost.com

In 1986 Carlo Petrini, dispirited by the rapid rise of global fast food and corporate restaurant chains, launched Slow Food from his tiny hometown of Bra Italy (27,000 inhabitants). Now an internationally famous, anti-fast-food resistance movement with a network of over 170 chapters in 150 countries. A joyous romp of a film, filled with all manner of delectable scenes of food, drink and song, Slow Food amply demonstrates that adventure is best served in heaping helpings.

- A film festival favorite around the world with premieres at the Berlin International Film Festival (Europe) and the Telluride Film Festival (USA)
- As of 2011, Slow Food USA has a membership of roughly 25,000 and more than 250,000 supporters
- Slow Food founder Carlo Petrini's book, Terra Madre, is an international bestseller

2013 • 74 mins • Ireland, Italy • Color
In Italian w/English subtitles • 16:9

MASTER OF THE UNIVERSE

A film by MARC BAUDER

"A vertiginous look inside the bubble behind the financial bubble, with no end in sight."

— Nicolas Rapold, New York Times

"Bauder's film is a diagnosis of a system that is hopelessly sick and not being treated. Bring a stress ball to squish up as you watch."

— Alan Scherstuhl, Village Voice

"Marc Bauder's documentary quietly detonates the conservative notion that our largest corporations should be allowed to duke it out in metaphorical no-holds-barred cage matches."

— Chuck Bowen, Slant Magazine

A brilliant and stunningly filmed dissection the global financial system as told from the perspective of real life, former "master of the universe," global investment banker, Rainer Voss. Voss gives a disturbing insider's account of a frightening and merciless world, revealing a parallel universe of extreme income and ceaseless pressure.
